CAPITAL CITY LAWYERS ASSOCIATION
SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATION
P. O. Box 68 Raleigh, NC 27602

March 8, 2021,

The Capital City Lawyers Association (CCLA) is seeking applicants for its Summer 2021 stipend which is awarded to two law students annually.

CCLA is the African-American Bar Association in Raleigh, North Carolina. CCLA's mission is to improve the quality of life in our community through education, service, and scholarship. CCLA will award two summer stipends to deserving law students who demonstrate a commitment to practicing in the Triangle area and using their legal training and skills to benefit low-income and/or traditionally underserved communities. The purpose of the summer stipend is to provide financial assistance during the summer which will: (1) supplement the income of students who have accepted summer employment for which they will not be compensated or (2) pay for expenses related to the July 2021bar examination.

Qualifications: To be considered for the summer stipend, the applicant must be a 2L, 3L, or 4L student attending either North Carolina Central University School of Law, UNC School of Law, Campbell University Norman Adrian Wiggins School of Law, Wake Forest School of Law, Elon School of Law, or Duke University School of Law who exemplifies the mission of this organization. Active participation in the Black Law Student's Association (BLSA) is preferred.

Application Process: To apply for the stipend, applicants must submit: (1) a completed Application, (2) a current resume, (3) an offer letter for unpaid summer employment or a letter from the applicant certifying that he or she will be sitting for the July 2021 North Carolina Bar Examination and will not be reimbursed by his or her employer for expenses related to the bar exam/bar study, and (4) a one page personal statement addressing the following questions: (i) how do you intend to use your legal training and skills to benefit low-income and/or traditionally underserved communities within the Triangle area and (ii) how does your background demonstrate your commitment to assisting low-income and/or traditionally underserved communities?

Application Deadline: The application deadline is April 9, 2021. Completed application materials may be submitted via U.S. Mail to Capital City Lawyers Association, Attn: Scholarship Committee, P.O. Box 68, Raleigh, North Carolina 27602 or applications may be scanned and sent via e-mail to
